RE: Site Inspection, Larson Limestone Quarry, S/049/011, Utah County, Utah

Tony Gallegos and I visited the Larson Limestone Quarry on July 19, 1990. The inspection was made to evaluate the current status of the mine.

Because of time constraints, we were unable to evaluate the site as extensively as we would have liked to. We feel at this time, the site is over 5 acres and will therefore, have to be bonded and re-permitted.

We spoke to a Mr. Gerald Larson on site, who indicated that Frank Filas had looked at the site earlier and had concluded that the site was under 5 acres. Since Frank Filas' earlier inspection in May of 1988, the site has no doubt grown in size.

Another site inspection needs to be scheduled for this site to determine the true acreage. The operator has not filed an annual report in the last two years.
